SAFETY FIRST

Common Health Issues that Can Impact your Driving Ability and Performance

Sure, texting while driving and drunk driving cause accidents on the road. A lot of public announcements have been made in order to minimize the number of people driving under the influence and those who use their cellphone while driving. But it is important to note that health also impacts a person's ability to drive. It has been proven that poor health conditions and some medications taken for health conditions can lead to crashes.

Come to the Green Road Meeting this month to get more information on these common health conditions and how they and medications for treatment, can affect your driving, and tips on when to see a doctor.

Diabetes, High Blood Pressure, Vision Problems,
Seizures, Arthritis, Alzheimer's Disease
