Nick Vallone Makes the 2023 Transportation Power 100

South Fallsburg, N.Y. (August 14, 2023) – Nick Vallone, Executive Vice President of Rolling V Bus Corp and President of the New York School Bus Contractors Association, has been chosen as one of the 2023 Transportation Power 100. City & State’s Transportation Power 100, features the many movers and shakers who are behind projects that are keeping New Yorkers on the move.

According to City and State New York, “New York’s private school bus contractors transport 2.3 million students across the state to and from school and serve 85% of the state’s school districts. Nick Vallone understands the importance of this work as president of New York’s trade group for private bus contractors. Vallone, who’s also the executive vice president of Rolling V Bus, has worked with Gov. Kathy Hochul’s administration to allow approved third parties to conduct commercial driver license testing to address a driver shortage. Vallone’s group also received 10% of the seats on a state advisory panel on electric school bus implementation.”

“Honored to be named to the Power 100 list for the second year in a row alongside so many great transportation professionals. We love New York, we move New York.” - Nick Vallone
